The mission of the NFFR is to assure access to cutting-edge care for children and adults with craniofacial differences being treated by the world-class practitioners at the Institute of Reconstructive Plastic Surgery of the NYU Langone Medical Center.

The Institute is a center of excellence that provides structured, highly specialized and personalized treatment for patients regardless of the severity of their condition, length of treatment or the family's ability to pay. It addresses the full array of craniofacial challenges with orthodontic, prosthetic, surgical and counseling services.

The IRPS treats over 2,000 patients each year
85 % of patients are children
70% are at or below the poverty level
95% remain in care that spans their entire childhood

The NFFR is the nonprofit fundraising arm of the Institute of Reconstructive Plastic Surgery. Without our financial support, the Institute could not provide comprehensive treatment to the thousands of children, adults and families they see each year.

Please help us continue this mission.
